VOL. XV

LEHI, UTAH, THURSDAY, JANUARY 10, 1907.

NO. 26

City Council Meet.

The City Council met in regular session Tuesday evening at the Court House.

Alex Christenson petitioned the City Council for a license for a pool room to admit young men from 18 and up. The city ordinance does not allow any one in pool rooms under 21 and the council did not favor changing the ordinance.

W. W. Dickerson submitted plans for the proposed hat rooms, dressing rooms and ticket office to be built on the south side of the City Pavilion. An estimate cost being $400. Bids will be received by the recorder and the council will consider them at the next regular session.

Councilman Goodwin and recorder Winn were appointed a committee to find the cost of a steel flag pole for the city lot.

Mayor Webb will appoint a new dog tax collector.

The matter of clearing the new Sego Lilly street of some trees, etc., was referred to the committee on streets. A petition with 14 signers was presented asking for an electric light corner of 2nd West and 3rd North was referred to the committee on streets with power to act.

Alex Christenson asked to lease the city pavilion. Matter was tabled as the present lease does not expire until April 10th.

Auditing committee made their report and were released.

Stockholder's Meeting.

Notice is hereby given that the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Lehi Mill & Elevator Company will be held in the Lehi Commercial Club rooms on Monday, January 21st, 1907, at 10:30 a. m.

The purpose of the meeting will be to elect a Board of seven Directors for the ensuing year, to receive the reports of its officers for the past fiscal year, and to transact any other business that may legally come before the meeting.

S. I. GOODWIN,

Secretary.

Lehi, Utah, January 4th, 1907.

Bad Fall.

Parley Moore was severely hurt when returning home the other night. He fell into a hole or ditch and broke his collar bone, also fractured his shoulder bone. The case is all the more serious because there is a family of eight small children depending upon him for support, who are now being cared for by friends.

Next Sunday Evening At Tabernacle.

The following program will be given by the M. I. A. next Sunday evening at the Tabernacle at 7:30: Current Events—Harry Madsen. Cornet Solo—Melvin Smith. Recitation—Mary Gray. Duett—Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Woodward. Organ Solo—Joseph Smith. Reading—Mixed Quartette—Sadie Davis and Company. M. I. A. Paper—F. A. Child, Editor.

Something Doing for Pelican Point.

The Pelican Point Mining and Development Co. was organized at Provo during the past week. W. N. Dunsenberry is President. Walter Parks, Vice-President. H. F. Thomas, Secretary, and Eugene Marcus, Treasurer. These gentlemen with T. B. Cedarstrom and Brigham Madison form the directorate. Messrs Parks and Marcus have been in Lehi for some time and sprung a surprise on our local prospectors when they recorded a quartz and placer location for over 2000 acres. Their property is just south of the holdings of Samuel Newhouse at Pelican Point. The company is to have a cyanide mill built by June, that will treat 1000 ton each day. The assays are $4.00 to $8.00 per ton. Supplies have been purchased and sent to the Point, a number of men will soon leave for there to help develop the property. Mr. Parks who has charge is an experienced miner coming here from the famous Treadwell mine of Alaska. Negotiations are being made for electric power and the railroad people are going to make an estimate on the cost of building a road to Pelican Point.

Many rumors and much talk have been heard about Pelican Point the past year, and it is to be hoped that some of the many good things told of there will materialize. Lime stone, Onyx and clay of an excellent quality are known to exist over there. Our people will anxiously await future developments.

Harold Dixon Broadbent.

The funeral over the remains of Harold Dixon Broadbent, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph S. Broadbent, was held from their home Wednesday at 1 p. m. The speakers were: Bishop Andrew Efeld, Ed. Southwick and Jas. M. Kirkham. He was born Oct. 28th, 1906, was sick only a short time, his death being caused by bronchial pneumonia.

Above Worldly Cares.

Billionaire's Daughter—You wrong him, papa. He does not love me for my money. He scoffs at the world's sordid eagerness for wealth. Papa—What proof have you, child? Billionaire's Daughter—Why, only last night, he told me he didn't care if he was never able to make a penny in his life if he only had me.

Notice.

There will be a meeting of the Stockholder of the Lehi Irrigation Company held in the old Tabernacle, Lehi, January 14th, 1907, at 2 o'clock p. m. to receive the report of the secretary and treasurer for the year 1906, and to elect 5 directors to serve the ensuing year and transact such other business as may be necessary.

D. J. THURMAN,

Secretary.

Editor Banner—

If it won't be intruding upon your valuable space, perhaps a line or two from here will be of interest to your many readers. A copy of your newsy paper comes to our home weekly, and we read it with pleasure. Your Xmas number was a dandy and was read here with much interest by local people. While perusing the notes on education and seeing the advancement that your city has made in these matters it certainly is a wonder, for I well remember the days when we had no school in Lehi, only the one taught in the home of Mr. Jos. Slaton, and another taught by J. I. H. Colledge, as I was a student. When C. D. Evans was master of ceremonies in the school room. I well remember as I was a teacher in the old meeting house, and taking my father's ox team to gather up my salary in such pay as cedar wood, corn, potatoes, a little flour, and some pork meat.

What would our teachers of today think of waiting until the end of the school term for their salary, and then have the trustees give them an order for their pay, such as I have mentioned? Such was the case, but these days have gone and are now only a picture of the past. In looking over the history I have of your city, recorded many years ago, I find the following items. In the spring of 1871, I. Evans hauled logs enough from Alpine Canyon to build us a school house. It was built on the north side of Dry Creek, not far from where Mr. Jas. Gray's house now stands. Its dimensions were 18 x 20, and was furnished with slab benches. The teacher being Miss J. Morehead. Shortly after this a Sunday school was organized with G. Zimmerman as Supt. and I. Evans, I. Hatch, and J. McConnel as teachers. These items were recorded as I took them from the lips of those who first settled your city, David Clark, I. Evans, A. Losee, Thomas Karans, and Ann Royal, all settlers of 1850.

Has the Wasp Affection?

A colony of wasps made a nest in the dark room of a studio last summer, says a writer in the Outing magazine. At first the party who used the room did not relish their company—but for certain reasons he did not molest them. He paid no attention to the little buzzers, and they came and went at their own sweet will.

After a time he began to study them and soon came to the conclusion that they were gradually becoming acquainted with him, his ways and his dark room. One day a stranger was seated on the window sill. The first wasp entering the room paid no attention to him, but made for the old crack in the wall. Then out came a big fat fellow who darted through the open window like a bullet. Within five minutes half a dozen wasps came with a rush at the stranger and two of them located him. But the writer has never been touched by his wasp colony.
